I Important iconography of Rome

Overbeke, B(onaventura) van. Reliquiae antiquae urbis Romae ... Opus postumum Michael ab Overbeke suis sumptibus edi curavit. 3 volumes. Amsterdam, Krellius 1708.

With three engraved front., one double-page maps of Rome, 146 (one double-page) engraved plates. (24), 87 pages; (2), 73 pages; (2), 61 pages, 3 identical engraved title-vignettes and 33 engravings in the text. Uniformly bound in cont. calf on eight raised bands. Gilt label to spine, spine gilt in compartments. Imperial- folio. Three headbands slightly damaged. Some edgewear. Brunet IV, 464. Rossetti G-1054. Olschki, Choix XI, 17700. Borroni 8088. First edition. A broadmargined and fine copy. With splendid illustrations of various ancient architectural structures in Rome.

2 Public transport and urban development

Jacqueline, E. Les chemins de fer dans les villes. Étude d'après Mr. (Edouard Auguste Joseph) Brame ingénieur des ponts et chaussées. Paris, Imp. de J. Claye 1856.

Engraved title with vignette, (2) pages of text printed in two columns, 3 engraved plates by Lemercier after G. Noel. Publisher's printed wrappers with engraved vignette on front cover. Oblong- Folio. (480 x 355 mm). Wrappers slightly dust-soiled. Corners bumped. First edition. A rare and early book on the feasibility of implanting underground and tramway networks in urban settlements.

3

Church architecture – Hoff-Kirche auf der Calenbergischen Neustadt. German manuscript on paper. (Hanover around 1760).

3 leaves with wash colour pen drawings on laid paper. Signed in margins 'fecit Schmidt'. Cont. flexible calf. Oblong- folio (420 x 660 mm). Covers rubbed, a few unobtrusive marks of surface worming to covers. All leaves with watermark C & I Honig above Strasbourg lily (cf. Churchill, Watermarks no. 408). The drawings, ground plans with the interior design of the nave with its three levels, ground floor, gallery and second gallery. They show the distribution of the seats for the nobility, the senior officials and servants at court which are captioned and marked in various tints. Built from 1667 to 1670, the church was destroyed in the Second World War. These drawings are therefore a valuable source of its original design.

Brisson, B(arnabé) (ed.). Nouvelle collection de 530 dessins ou feuilles de textes, relatifs à l'art de l'ingénieur et lithographiés à l'Ecole Royale des Ponts et Chaussées sous la direction de M. Brisson, de 1821 à 1825. Two volumes. (Paris), l'Ecole Royale des Ponts et Chaussées 1821-1825.

Completely lithographed throughout by Antoine Raucourt de Charleville and others. 277 unnumb. leaves; 277 unnumb. leaves with hundreds of partially whole-page illustrations and text, sometimes lithographed on both sides of the leaves. Cont. green half morocco, gilt title to spine, spine richly gilt. Folio (450 x 300 mm). Extremeties slightly worn. Not in Twyman, Early lithogr. Books. Cf. Twyman, Lithography 1800-1850 p. 110 (for Raucourt de Charleville). First edition. Divided into two parts: "Première partie comprenant les routes, les ponts fixes et mobiles, les passages d'eau, la navigation et les dessèchemens; seconde partie comprenant les travaux des ports maritimes, l'architecture, les machines et les objets divers." In 1817 Antoine Raucourt de Charleville established the first lithographic press at the l'Ecole Royale. In his book "Mémoire sur les expériences lithographiques faites à l'Ecole Royale des Ponts et Chaussées de France; ou manuel théorique et pratique du dessinateur et de l'imprimeur lithographes" published in 1819 he gives a detailed account of that. All the architectural projects described in this book are written or signed by the architect or engineer responsible. Fore-edge of vol. II with brown spot in lower right corner only faintly intruding to margins. OCLC locates only 3 copies in American libraries of which at least one is incomplete (NYPL, CUL and UC San Diego). A nice and broadmargined copy.

Ita utrumque ratione certius & curiose & clarae esse posita quod si unum est deinde & certius & per hoc certius summae & pulchritudinis & certitudinis esse. Iustus & tributus.

5

Le Roy, Henri. Imagines septem planetarum. (Paris), Thomas Leu (ca 1608).

Engraved title and engraved dedication, 7 numbered engraved plates. Sewn. 4to (260 x 185 mm). Cf. Guilmard 38,4. First edition. A nice suite with allegorical images of Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Sun, Venus, Mercury and Moon. "The work is dedicated to Maximilian de Béthune, Baron de Rosny, Duc de Sully, who is described as „in ordinario et priuato Consillio Consilario Regio.“ The book must therefore have been published between 1606, when Maximilien was created Duc de Sully, and 1610, when Henry IV died". All plates with an engraved Latin text.

6

Petzold, Eduard. Beiträge zur Landschafts-Gärtnerie. Zur Farbenlehre der Landschaft. Mit 7 kolorierten Farbkreisen auf 4 Tafeln sowie 3 Textabbildungen. Jena, Frommann, 1853.

IX, 68 pages with 3 text-illustrations, 4 plates with handcoloured colour charts. Contemporary black boards, gilt label to spine. (227 x 180 mm). Dochnahl 119. Not in Vagnetti; Springer p. 86, et passim. Rare first edition of a thorough research into the science of colours and perspective applied to landscape gardening. Carl Eduard Adolph Petzold (1815-1891) was park and garden inspector to Prince Pückler at Muskau and the duke of Weimar, and finally Prince Frederik of the Netherlands. Convinced that colour and perspective have to be dealt with in a variant way in works of nature compared to works of art, the author devoted a lifelong study to this subject, resulting in the present work. Apart from an introduction into the basic knowledge of the science of colours, optics and perspective it contains a lengthy and important treatise on the special working of colours in the landscape as a result of the perspective of the light and the air, the composition of the sky, etc. The author's revolutionary discoveries produced a great effect on the contemporary common practice of landscape gardening.

7 Masterpiece of landscape architecture

Becker, W(ilhelm) G(ottlieb). Der Plauische Grund bei Dresden, mit Hinsicht auf Naturgeschichte und schöne Gartenkunst. Mit fünf und zwanzig Kupferblättern. Two parts in one volume. Nürnberg, Frauenholzischen Kunsthändlung 1799.

17

Wright, William. Grotesque architecture, or rural amusement; consisting of plans, elevations, and sections for huts, retreats, summer and winter hermitages, terminaries, chines, gothic and natural grottos, cascades, baths, mosques, moresque pavilions, grotesque and rustic seats, green houses, &c. Many of which may be executed with flints, irregular stones, rude branches, and roots of trees. The whole containing twenty-eight new designs, with scales to each. To which is added an explanation, with the method of executing them. ... A new edition. London, I. and J. Taylor, at the Architectural Library 1790.

Engraved front., 14 pages, (2) Seiten publisher's advertisement, 28 numb. engraved plates. Half cloth around 1900. Berlin catalogue 3420. Archer 358.2. First published in 1767. A nice and broadmargined copy. "Unlike frontispieces to many other eighteenth- and nineteenth century architectural books, Wright's is not simply a portrait or an illustration of one of his own designs, but is an imaginary scene depicting several of his designs in a natural landscape setting. ... The frontispiece was designed to aid the viewer – especially the prospective client – in imagining Wright's building designs in a landscape setting. Indeed Wright was the first to publish such a scene in a book of architectural designs – showing specific designs set into natural surroundings in a consciously artful way" (Archer p. 853).

Métivier, J(ean) (Baptiste). Grund-Pläne, Durchschnitte und Facaden nebst Details der Reitbahn und Stallungen, gebaut für S. Berlin cat. 4702. Not in Tomash Collection. Very rare work on perspective and optics including descriptions of instruments. A new edition of Pfinzing's 'Extract der Geometriae und Perspectivae' (VD16 P 2375), originally privately published by the author in Nuremberg in 1599. Pfinzing's interest in perspective, and admiration for such contemporary master goldsmiths and perspective theorists like Jamnitzer and Lencker, led him to produce this concise history of geometry and perspective in which the Nuremberg theorists are placed on a par with the ancient philosophers. It remains significant as it was the first book to examine some of the remarkable results of the German renaissance in Nuremberg in a kind of chronological manner. For this edition the engraver Lucas Kilian added a new decorative engraved title leaf. Not in COPAC; OCLC: Getty Research; Harvard Houghton; Menil Collection; National Gallery of Arts; Oberlin; NYPL; Yale.

Three hectographed leaves with manuscript annotations. Jena, März 1926. With a detailed list explaining the photographs of the second part 'Jenaer Wohnungselend' giving addresses, names and number of tenants and lodgers. 3. Two manuscript leaves with explanations to the first part. Signed and dated Addi Scholz, geb. Kessler. Rott 1991. A most interesting documentation on the history of the international garden city movement, starting around the turn of the 19th century to improve the home comfort of the labouring class exemplified by this German garden city housing development project near Jena. The garden city project in the Ziegenheiner Flur nearby Jena, was drafted and designed by the architect Paul Engelhardt. He supervised its first state of construction from 1913-1915. Till 1940 it was steadily extended. It still exists today in its original design.
